This Weeks Run...

Run No:	Hares:	Place:	Date:
1175	Indyanus, Priscilla, Black Widow	Wanchai Park	1 st November

We begin with some Announcements

From your GM, Bite n Suck

The Shekou weekend is fast approaching!! Thanks to those who have booked accommodation through Haggis.

Please also inform edwardh05@yahoo.com of which events you are attending in order to assist them with logistics. (and to ensure you get stash!)

DON'T FORGET that you need a China visa; rules differ depending on your HK status and your nationality. YOU should check it out ASAFP, ie this week!

From Hash Stash, Haggis Humper

We are getting a WH3 fleece made in time for the winter. If we get a min order of 40 they are HK$150 each.

- lightweight
- navy blue
- detachable sleeves (can become a waistcoat)
- embroidered WH3 logo

This will be by order only so you need to let me know your chest size in inches if you want one. I will need all orders by Sun 8 Nov 09 latest.

From Hash Scribe, Bravefart

If anyone has seen Mr Lost in Space or Mr Sh+thouse, would you mind bringing them to next week's run with functioning eyes, ears and writing hand.

More name clarifications

We'll get to the run eventually, but regular readers may care to remember that I was having some naming difficulties with our new hasher Torsten/Carsten (who has not been seen since). I am faced with a similar difficulty posed by Mr Anal Retreat/Invitation. Having been renamed on a lesser hash, allegedly for inviting (gettit??!!) an illicit liaison with his nether regions by bending over suggestively. However, it seems that come circle time we are reverting to his former name. Was this simply an act of self preservation given the supposed nocturnal habits of our many visitors? In the interests of accuracy, the RA must pontificate.

The Warm Up

With our numbers swollen by an influx of US Navy personnel (4 ships in town) the hares introduced the day's run, which was novel in that it was not going to be marked, rather we were going to organized (I use the term loosely) into teams for something that looked very so slightly competitive.

The hares singled out 10 captains to pick teams. Some teams picked themselves, with visitors having to be restrained after being offered the opportunity of following Yummy Mummy round for an hour or so.

"I want some navy boys too," pleaded Virgin Mary. The GM kindly obliged and procured an other willing handful of sailors.

The high estimation in which I held my team-mates, was not shared by Dr Doom.

"Damn Bravefart, you really don't want to win," he observed, looking with hint of disdain round the assembled group featuring G-string, plus visitors Shark & Wild Boar from Penang.

The run

Clues took us along Queen's Road, past the Sikh temple and past the race course into the cemeteries of Happy Valley. After solving innumerable clues, we climbed up to exit the cemetery and then back down Stubbs Road.

We headed along Queen's Road to the Methodist International Church after which confusion followed with many groups mistaking the clue to mean going to the end of Kennedy Road not Kennedy Street.

After a visit to a Temple, we quickly went downmarket with a trip to Galaxy to investigate under what circumstances one can get an escort. By the time we got to the Metropark Swinehotel, they'd already stationed a doorman to stop inquisitive hashers dropping by to pick up souvenirs.

There followed a round trip of well known Wanchai bars & restaurants before on home back to Wanchai Park.

The circle

Enter the GM, dressed as a witch.

First down down to the hares, followed by a long roll call of visitors...

- Shark & Wild Boar from Penang. Wild Boar is sporting the god awful Caligula shirt. EEK
- Cliff Richard from New Zealand
- Rear-end Rangler from New York
- No Aussies
- Bill & Val from the UK. Bill gets a further down down for getting lost in some interesting Wanchai bars the other evening.
- Then we get to our Navy visitors.

Navy Boys (& Girl) form in an inner circle, paired with nubile hashers who are tasked with extracting useful information. It all gets drowned out with chants of "Gang Bang".

I thought the term was "Cluster fcuk", maybe not...

Marafat, complete with whip, steps back in to restore order.

We then learn that Virgin Mary has been leading her sailors astray and losing clothes along the trail. It is claimed she returned in her underwear, but on inside out!

Haggis Humper, a married man, picks his wife Rawhide first on his team, to maintain harmony. F3M meanwhile avoids picking Hopeless on her team, also to maintain harmony.

Haggis circle

No-name Jason asks Virgin Mary how many sailors she can "take"? "All of them" apparently.

Time for a game. All the navy boys in a line, all the Filipinas in an other. Haggis asks some easy questions about the USA, slowly stitching up the Navy boys, although it takes a while for them to realise.

It is illegal to have sex in your front porch in Montana, after sundown.

Black Widow in to announce the scores

The wooden spoon goes to team Yummy Mummy, who didn't make it past the OCH.
There's a down down for the three second placed captains: CPH (disputing team control with Bonecrusher), Virgin Mary & Haggis.

However, the winners (despite taking two and a half hours) are team Dribble.

Competition for best Halloween fancy dress, featuring Marafat, Leg Over, Rawhide, Shoe Horny, G-String, Tiny Teepee, Black Widow & Motormouth.

Wild Boar called in for getting into a fight with a bouncer in Galaxy.

Shark (GM of Penang hash) called in to remind us that we can all pass by Penang for a pre-lube prior to interhash.

GM's circle

Calls Stroke Me Harder for recutting and resizing some dodgy stash.

Advertises away trip and informs us about some interesting rooming arrangements that Anal Retreat/Invitation & Virgin Mary have organised, to the dismay of Mrs Retreat...

No hash gear - Yummy Mummy, Shoe Horny, G-string, Big P, Virgin Mary, Butterfly, Leg Over, Gorgonzola and many others...

Calls Dr Doom for being unable to decide if he's American or Australian.

After many more calls for Virgins (the navy want to be sure it seems) we close with the announcement of next week's run: set by the Naughty Angels at the Peak.
